- (b) the Commissioner may, on good cause shown, at any time, remit or reduce any fine payable under this section.

(2) The payment of any fine shall be denoted on the instrument by a particular stamp.

(3) The fine provided for by this section in respect of any instrument shall constitute a debt due to the State by the person primarily liable for payment of the duty on that instrument and may be recovered from that person by action in the same manner as duty. Where there are 2 or more persons so liable, their liabilities shall be joint and several.

(4) The fine provided for by subsection (1)(a) shall become due on the presentation of the instrument for stamping and the fine provided for by subsection (1)(b) shall, whether the instrument is presented for stamping or not, become due on the expiration of 3 months after the execution of the instrument or, in the case of an instrument first executed out of the Fiji Islands, on the expiration of 3 months after it has been first received in the Fiji Islands.

(2) Such officer shall detain and immediately transmit to the Commissioner the instrument, together with the duty and fine so paid thereon and the payment thereof shall be denoted on such instrument accordingly.

When evidence of contents of lost unstamped instruments may be given

40.—(1) If an instrument chargeable with duty and which may legally be stamped after execution is lost before the same is stamped, secondary evidence may be given of such instrument and of the contents thereof in any court, but the person adducing such evidence shall first pay to the officer of the court whose duty it would be to read such instrument in court if the same had not been lost such unpaid duty and fine as the judge or magistrate assesses to be the duty and fine that would be payable on such instrument had such instrument itself been tendered in evidence.

(2) If such duty and fine are not paid on assessment being made as aforesaid, the evidence shall be rejected.

(2) The aforesaid amount shall be a debt due to the State and may be recovered from such person accordingly:

Provided that—

- (a) such person, if dissatisfied, may appeal to the High Court against the decision of the Commissioner made under the provisions of section 45, in which case such provisions shall mutatis mutandis be applied;
